PLOS ONE

Dear Dr. Fathmawati:

Thank you for submitting your work to PLOS ONE. Your manuscript will be formally accepted and enter production after you complete the requests below. Please note that you will not be able to make changes to your manuscript once it enters the production process. PLOS ONE does NOT provide author proofs. Any changes other than those requested in this email will need to be reviewed by the Academic Editor and reviewers; this will delay the formal acceptance of your manuscript.

To access your manuscript and complete these changes, please follow this link: <https://www.editorialmanager.com/pone4/author/4593879RM=60691.727>

Please note that this link should not be shared with other people to ensure that any action taken on this submission is done by you, the Corresponding Author.

You will find the submission in "Current Task Assignments." From there you must download your submission files via the "Assignment Files" link. You can also download the manuscript file attached to this email; the document has been formatted to track all changes, and we will only accept this version with locked tracked changes returned to us.

To opt in or out of publishing your peer review history, please answer the Peer Review History question within this task. Please note we are unable to send your article to production without this.

Once you have made all the required changes, click "Submit Task" to upload the corrected files.

Your task is due Sep 18 2021 11:58PM.

Please contact plosone@plos.org with any questions or concerns. For billing related questions, please contact our Author Billing department directly at authorbilling@plos.org. For questions regarding your press release or the press process, please contact press@plos.org

With kind regards,
PLOS ONE staff

JOURNAL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Please ensure that the author list and affiliations are correct on the title page of your manuscript, and that your author contributions, competing interests, and financial disclosures are correct as listed below. All of these sections will be indexed in PubMed and published by PLOS ONE as you have written them. Please email plosone@plos.org if any changes to this content need to be made.

Dear Author,

We're pleased to announce that your manuscript "Factors related with the incidence of acute respiratory infections in toddlers in Sleman, Yogyakarta, Indonesia; Evidence from the Sleman Health and Demographic Surveillance System" has a scheduled publication date of Sep 24, 2023. Your article will remain under a strict press embargo until 2 PM Eastern Time (US) on the date of publication.

Please note that publication dates may change; this is not a frequent occurrence but can happen due to unforeseen technical issues. If you are planning a press release and have not already coordinated the publication date with the journal, please contact them as soon as possible.

PLOS routinely tracks the media coverage our articles receive; however, we aren't always able to capture all of it. Therefore, if you discover or produce new content about your article that you would like to be added, please let us know. To submit a media link, fill out the online form found on the Related Content tab of your paper. The coverage you submit will be posted pending staff approval.

Be ready to respond to comments from readers

We encourage you to sign up for a PLOS Journals account if you have not yet done so; this is independent of the manuscript submission and peer review system. When your paper is published, you will be able to comment on the paper and respond to any reader comments. We hope that you and your co-authors will participate as widely as possible, as your contributions will be valuable to the community. To register and find out more information please go to <https://community.plos.org/registration/new>

Discover how many people have downloaded your paper

As time passes, we encourage you to explore the 'Metrics' tab, where comprehensive and transparent information about the reach and usage of the article is available. This information includes article-usage statistics (page views and PDF downloads), citations from the scholarly literature, comments, sharing on social networks, and blog posts. Further information about PLOS' program of article-level metrics is available here: <https://xrla.org/subtab/metrics/>

Questions about your publication?

Please feel free to contact the journal office and they will be happy to help.

We thank you again for your support and contribution to PLOS.

Regards,
PLOS Production
